OCCUPATION

“DJ” is a single father, entrepreneur, veteran, and proud Christian. He gained notoriety after standing up to the Biden Administration and Governor Cox’s unlawful military Covid-19 experimental vaccine mandates for soldiers. After feeling failed by his leaders at multiple levels, he has decided to get involved as a non-partisan “public servant” - rather than a politician - and strive to be the change from within. He has pledged 100K of the nearly 120K Eagle Mountain Mayoral salary back to city programs of his choice. He is passionate about fighting for more infrastructure for the citizens of Eagle Mountain, as well as expanding the recreational options in that community. He is especially interested in expanding mountain biking trails and city sports recreation programs. He has created quite a stir in his community due to his sense of humor, unpolished responses, and camel riding antics. You can find more information about his platform at www.dj4em.com
